An estimated 1,144,000 tons of raw sugar are expected to be produced during the 1982-82 grinding season from Florida's sugar industy, according to a preliminary crop projection, said Dalton Yancey, vice president and general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane Leaugue.

Harvesting of this year's crop will begin for some of the industry by mid-October with each the mills in full operation by the beginning of November, he said. The industry expects to harvest 11.6 million tons of sugarcane from "Area farmers senset the

Few complaints voiced about BG budget

BELLE GLADE - Local residents had few gripes about the city's proposed millage rate for the 1982-1983 fiscal year at the Wednesday evening, September 15, public hearing.

September 15, public nearing.
The city commission had se a tentative minage rate of 4.84. Last year's rate was 7.03.
According to City Finance Director Frank Anderson, the millage rate is expected to raise about $590,000, 11.8 percent of the general fund revenues.

The total city budget is about $8.2 million.
Mayor Thomas L. Altman said the city is attempting to keep property taxes low by levying user fees whenever possible.

This year, the city commission had decided to levy a mosquito fee of $8.70 per month per unit.

This method of taxation places the cost on the individuals receiving the benefits, Altman said.

Because of Homestead and other deductions, a tot of property in the area is off the tax rolls and no funds are collected from them, he said, adding that those are the properties which receive the bulk of the city's services.

"You have the bulk of the property that is taxed, funding the bulk of the property that is not taxed, or taxed at a very low rate." Altman said.
Property in the Glades has been reappraised over the past two years to bring appraisal values as close to 100 percent as possible in accordance with the Truth In Millage Amendment.
The Truth In Millage Amendment provided a $25,000 deduction in appraisals, but also required a 100 percent valuation.
Last year, the appraisers appraised homes an

Ducks Unlimited sets banquet date

The Belle Glade Chapter of Ducks Unlimited has announced that its 3rd annual banquet will be held at the Elk's Club in Belle Glade, on Oct. 28 at 7:00 pm. Chapter Chairman Rick Lyman, 2001 NE Ave I, feels the fund-raising function should be marked on the calendar by anyone who is in-terested in the future of North America's water-terested in the future of North America's waterfowl.

"The Ducks Unlimited success story," said.
Lyman, "is really starting to spread around. Banquets much like our chapter event held throughout the country last year contributed towards Duck's Unlimited's national fundraising effort which raised $30 million during.
1981 alone. But what's even more important to realize, "said Lyman "is that this national fundraising total must increase this year if the North American waterfowl habitat race is to be won."

DU's sportmen/conversationists founders discovered through surveys conducted forty-five years ago that seventy percent of North American waterfowl protection occurs in Canada. They figured out back in 1937 what holds true today. Since Federal duck stamp dollars cannot be spent beyond U.S. borders, sportsmen funds earmarked for waterfowl conservation are not getting to the places whee the great percentage of production takes place. But through Duck's Unlimited's efforts, over $164 million has been raised in the U.S. since 1937.

brought up the idea of reviving the old Tri-Cities League.

Response to the idea was luke-warm, with a few commissioners expressing the attitude that "It would be nice if."

The budgeting process is nearing a close for this year and city commissions and councils will have time to turn their attention to other matters. We strongly urge the elected officials of Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay to consider reviving the league.

The Glades face many problems and strong, unified leadership is the best way to go about solving them.

SR 80 and SR 98 need to be four-laned and repayed. The county and state are oblivious to

A contradiction in terms

We often use the word Christian to describe a way of living, as in "good Christian man."
There are times when coupling the word Christian to whatever noun presents a contradiction.
Being more precise, we might say "good, toneet, religious man."
I am led ito this discussion by the recent massacre in Lobanon by "Christian Phalenges."
Though I have often heard the word, I never may precisely what. Phalanges were until I contained the word of the contained of the precise when the property of the precise were the precise when the precise were the precise were the precise when the precise were the precise when the precise were the precise when the precise were the precise were the precise when the precise were the precise were the precise when the precise were the precise were the precise were the precise were the precise when the precise were the pr

Though I have often heard the word. I never knew pracisely what Phalanges were until I consulted my dictionary.

According to The Random House College Dictionary, a phalange is the plural of phalanx, which is any body of troops in close array.

I certainly believe we can have Christian militia. When the militia slaughters unarmed civilians, however, I believe they lose the right to call themselves Christian.

When any group takes it upon themselves to commit atrocticies, their moral underpinning is jeopardized, whether they are Christians, Buddhista, Hindus, or Muslims (Any groups that I may have left out, please feel free to add on.)

I seriously doubt that this weekend's slaughter was done in the name of religion. More likely it was the outgrowth of the Muslim-Christian-Palestinian feuding which has gripped the country for the past few years. Top this with the recent bomb assassination of the president-elect of the country and anything can happen.

As always, it is deplorable when foul deeds are done in the name of religion, or when the good name of religion is suilled by association.

It's too bad that Lebanon is 't the only place in the world where we have this kind of a situation. But it isn't, Not when we have Catholics and Protestants killing each other in Northern Irelaind and extremist Muslims in Egypt killing their moderate president.

Towards the perfect woman

I see we've got us a rebuilt Miss America. A souped up model, as it were. A new and improved product, as they say on TV.

Miss America, according to some — shall we say less than discreet — sources, is smilling out of a litted face.

If one is in the business of winning beauty contests, why not have some exterior landscaping done and put on a new face: pare a little off the old nose, sculpt the chin, trim a bit of the fat from the jowls, and stuff some surplus under the T-shirt for good measure?

jow's, and stuff some surplus under the Tehirt for good measure?

Being somewhat weary myself of often being mistaken for some other raving beauty, I can understand wanting to have a face you can call your own — cortainly not the one you inherited with Uncle Oscar's nose, Aunty Libby's eyes, and Grandma Poke's double chin.

And if the face you want to call your own

And if the face you want to call your own doesn't happen to be the one you began with, it's nobody's business but your own if you spend three months saying, "Good morning," to a face in the mirror whose name you can't place. Unless, of course, it is somebody else's face. And it's the ramifications of the total facelift that bother me.

AILSA DEWING

AND WHAT NOT

Does one approach a plastic surgeon with a rough sketch of what one had in mind? I hardly think so. Not at those prices. Possibly you select a new face from catalog items. You pick your nose by number. And your chin, and so forth. A surgeon with a really good display would have an assortment of sample noses and chins to try on, like an oculist has eyeglass frames. The bill for an extensive facial overhaul would read; Nose No. 128, Chin No. 36, etc.

If the nose you select for your new face is out of stock or discontinued, which isn't really possible, I guess, since new noses aren't stocked like auto parts — but let's say, you don't find a nose to your liking, can you bring someone into the

"Lee' gen one up in Belle Glade!"

No offense was intended, according to David Lee, director of the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering of the State Board of Health, in reference to a quote in the Belle Glade Herald.

Lee had been quoted in a story some weeks previously, that he had, "warned people against moving to the Everglades."

He said he had felt it his duty to advise people that where septic tanks didn't work, other methods of sewage disposal should be used.

Lee apologized for any offense taken however, but that didn't solve the question of how loans for VA and FHA homes could be made.

Under his ruling, the State Board of Health wouldn't approve loans until satisfied beyond "a shadow of a doubt" about the proper functioning of a septic tank.

Kane A shortage of bean pickers was being foreseen in the Glades as California farmers plowed under beet fields, Arizona growers left cantaloupes unharvested. Texan needed 35,000 cotton pickers and Georgia needed peanut pickers. The problem was that Lucky Strike Greens had gone to war and they were quickly followed by a large part of the farm worker force. It was aggravated by a shortage of gasoline and tires used by migrant workers to get from one harvest to another. With Uncle Sam gettling first call on men to man rifles in the worldwide conflict, thousands of acres of crops were left rotting in the fields and the Lake Okeechobee region was no exception. When harvesters could be found, growers found they, were demanding higher wages. In California's Casa Grande valley, farmers were paying $4 a day to workers they's earlier paid $40 a month. "Fret not thyself because of evildoers, neither be thou envious against the worker's of iniquity." Psalm 37:1 KIV

Most of us waste alot of time, energy, and effort, in fretting. Expressing our dissatisfaction with things seems to be part of human nature. That of course is our right.

But being anxious, upset and fussing about those things usually only makes us more anxious and upset and puts a bad atmosphere all around us. Who enjoys someone else's fretting?

Basically, there are two areas that we cause our fretting. The first is with inward dissatisfaction and the other is dissatisfaction with an outward situation or with other people. But, many times our real problem is within us, but we do all our fretting and complaining about what is on the outside. You see if we focus attention on outward situations or other people we avoid facing what is wrong within ourselves.

But what is God's answer to fretting? Well this Psalm tells us. First of all, we read in verse 3 that we are to "Trust in the Lord, and do good." This of course means we are putting our faith in God's goodness and love. It means that we recognize that God loves each of us more than anyone else can love us. Trusting God means we do things this way. That means we make the choice to do what is right in all the situations of life that we are confronted with. Our goodness is not dependent upon the goodness or bad news of other people, but our relationship to a good and loving Heavenly Father.

"No funds will be drawn from this account in the future fog any other purpose other than to help offset the cost of medical expense for a needy citizen when all other sources have been exhausted."

The next verse (4) says, "Delight thyself also in the Lord; ands He will give thee the desires of thine heart," when the Bible tells us to delight ourselves in God - it is saying we are to form the kind of relationship to God that our greatest joy in life is in being in His Presence. That comes when we live in an attitude of praise and thanksgiving to God. Paul said, "Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say rejoice." ("Philippians 4:4) If we would form the habit of starting such day off in praise and thanksgiving, the Presence and the love of God would become a reality in our lives each day. Then in verse 5, we read "Commit thy ways unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass" All of us are committed to something or somebody.

ometimes that commitment is to self or taking are of self. But the Christian is a person who has mmitted himself to God. This means at least or things. First of all that we have said to God, y life belongs to you. Therefore, we belong to sus Christ-we are His. The second thing is that cause of that He is the Ruler of our lives. Comtiment in the commitment means obediance. That does not mean follow Him when we like or understand, but at times.

And then in verse 7 we read "Rest in the Lord, and wait patientl for Him." that means we accept His rest. If we are waiting on God - that is what we are doing. It means we stop worrying about all those evil people, we recognize they sooner or later are going to have to answer to God for evil.

The Bible says to us "Be not deceived: God is not mocked: for whatesever a man soweth, that shall he also resp." (Gal. 67 RSV) If a person goes through life sowing evil and destruction, sooner or later that will come he had to that person. But if we sow love and mercy that one comes home to us. The choice is ours. David the sow love and use that person will be used to the person of the total the sow love and mercy that the solid the upright, for the end of that man is aloned to the upright, for the end of that man is aloned to transgressors shall be destroyed togetter end of the wicked shall be cut off. But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord: He is their trength in the time of trouble. And the LORD shall help them, and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them, because they trust in Him. "Psalm 37:37-40

Keeping the Faith

by Rev. Joe McGahey

"Fret not thyself because of evildoers, neither be thou envious against the worker's of iniquity." Psalm 37:1 KIV

Most of us waste alot of time, energy, and effort, in fretting. Expressing our dissatisfaction with things seems to be part of human nature. That of course is our right.

But being anxious, upset and fussing about those things usually only makes us more anxious and upset and puts a bad atmosphere all around us Who enjoys someone else's fretting?

Basically, there are two areas that we cause our fretting. The first is with inward dissatisfaction and the other is dissatisfaction with an outward situation or with other people. But, many times our real problem is within us, but we do all our fretting and complaining about what is on the outside. You see if we focus attention on outward situations or other people we avoid facing what is wrong within ourselves.

But what is God's answer to fretting? Well this Psalm tells us. First of all, we read in verse 3 that we are to "Trust in the Lord, and do good." This of course means we are putting our faith in God's goodness and love. It means that we recognize that God loves each of us more than anyone else can love us. Trusting God means we do things this way. That means we make the choice to do what is right in all the situations of life that we are confronted with. Our goodness is not dependent upon the goodness or bad news of other people, but our relationship to a good and loving Heavenly Father.

INSURANCE INSIGHTS

Motorcycle Accidents: Survival and Safety

The next verse (4) says, "Delight thyself also in the Lord; ands He will give thee the desires of thine heart." when the Bible tells us to delight ourselves in God · it is saying we are to form the kind of relationship to God that our greatest joy in life is in being in His Presence. That comes when we live in an attitude of praise, and thanksgiving to God. Paul said, "Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say rejoice." (Philippinas (-4) If we would form the habit of starting each day off in praise and thanksgiving, the Presence and the love of God would become a reality in our lives each day. Then in verse 5, we read "Committ thy ways unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass" All of us are committed to something or somebody.

Sometimes that commitment is to self or taking care of self. But the Christian is a person who has committed himself to God. This means at least two things. First of all that we have said to God, my life belongs to you. Therefore, we belong to Jesus Christ-we are His. The second thing is that because of that He is the Ruler of our lives. Commitment means obediance. That does not mean we follow Him when we like or understand, but at all times.

And then in verse 7 we read "Rest in the Lord, and wait patientl for Him." that means we accept His rest. If we are waiting on God - that is what we are doing. It means we stop worrying about all those evil people, we recognize they sooner or later are going to have to answer to God for evil.

Crusaders lose to Terriers

This could be the year of the Terriers as Charlie Ford rushed for 207 yards and scored three touchdowns Friday night in Moore Haven to give the Terriers a 86-7 win over the Belle Glade Christian Day School Crusaders
It was Moore Haven's second win in as many games this season. The Terriers defeated the LaBelle Coboys last week 13-6 in LaBelle.

After Moore Haven's dismal 2-8 season last year, coach Steve Petti decided to change the team's philosophy and "win one game at a time." It seems to be working.

Moore Haven quarterback Mark Holder also had a great game against the Crusaders. He completed 10 of 17 passes for 99 yards and one touchdown. Holder was named Moore Haven player of the week by coach Petti.
"Mark Holder had a super game." Petti said after naming him player of the week. "He's not real big, but he's intelligent and has a super arm." Holder is a junior this year.

Petti said he wanted to work on the team's passing game against the Crusaders because eventually "opposing teams will key on Charlie Ford."

Ford has rushed for 350 yards and five touchdowns in two games for the Terriers. He was named Outstanding Player in southeast Florida last week by the Palm Beach Post. According to Petti, Ford is the first Moore Haven player to ever win the award.
"He (Ford) is always a threat to score," Petti said.

said.
Petti's game plan against the Crusaders was to run the football, throw several 15 to 20 yard passes, with a deep pass every quce in a while.
The plan was successful as the Terriers led 20-0 at halftime.
Defensively, Moore Haven tackle Allen Slater played an outstanding game, making 12 tackles. Defensive and offensive tackle Gerald Moore also had a great game. The Moore Haven defense held the Crusaders to 119 yards rushing and 8 yards rasaving.

passing.

The Crusader's only score came late in the fourth quarter when Alex Morales scored on a 45-yard touchdown run. Morales also added the extra point.

Christian Day coach James Jacks said, "We could have won the ball game, adding that "the coaches weren't prepared. We (the coaches) made a lot of errors."

Jacks also pointed out that the Crusaders only had 13 players for the game and the players "had to go both ways [play offense and defense)." He noted that guard Jo Jo Ramos had a great game defensively with 12 tackles. "We 'we corrected all our errors, 'Jacks said. "We will win next week's game." The Crusaders will play St. Edwards of Ft. Pierce at Christian Day field next week. Christian Day is 1-1 for the season. They defeated Westminister Academy in their first game 28-20. with a 29-0 win against the North Shore Mustangs. The Raiders are now 2-0 for the season. Going into Friday's game the Mustangs and the Raiders were both 1-0. The Raiders were led by Eric Smith who threw four touchdown passes and the Glades Central defense held North Shore to 124 total yards. Coach Dan Brown said Smith completed 10 out of 14 passes. Nobert Jordan led the defense with four quarterback sacks, and one fumble recovery.

The Maiders opened the scoring by blocking a North Shore punt out of the end zone for a safety. Smith hit Alonzo Allen from 15 yards out for the first touchdown, then connected with Allen agains from 15 yards to make the score 16-0 at halltime.

Randy Rutledge then got into the act by catching a 12 yard scoring pass from Smith. Rutledge closed out the scoring pass from Smith with a 6 yard run.

Each team was penalized 10 times for 90 yards. The Raiders will face Cardinal Newman High School at home on Oct. 1.

United States Sugar's skipper, John B. Boy...

At the helm in the 50th year

He is the mountain boy from Tennessee who loves the ocean. He is the World War Two naval officer and innovative engineer. He is head of one of the best run, and most profitable companies in the state of Florida.

His name is John B. Boy and since July 1, 1970.

name is John B. Boy and since July 1, 1970, served as president of United States Sugar

Corp.

Boy, 64, was born in Johnson City, Tenn., and grew up in Huntington, West Va. His father worked for the railroad.

After graduation from high school in F. hmond, Va., he went on to Georgia Tech, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering.

He went on to work for Buckeye Cotton Oil Co., subsidiary of Proctor and Gamble, in Memphis, enn., before being transferred to the parent com-device when he was called to active duty in January of 1941.

Boy would serve five years before returning to civilian life. His first assignment was as officer in charge of Subchaser 330 off Norfolk, Va. In the spring of 1942, he was transferred to miamit to the sub chasing training center's gun-He was commander of a 173 submarine patrol craft.

He was commander of a 173 foot anti-submarine patrol craft in the Carribean.

In the last year of the war, he was commander of a destroyer escort and served in the Mediter-rean, Atlantic and Pacific Theaters.

A lieutenant commander when separated from active duty, he was subsequently promoted to full commander in the Reserves, but was given a medical discharge when he developed back trouble.

"I was on board a ship four of my five years and was always captain of the ship. I never held another job afloat," he recalls.

While assigned to the Miami area, Boy fell in love with South Florida.

Miami lacked industry at that time, but he read where United States Sugar Corp. was completing a starch plant in Clewiston and was looking for an assistant plant superintendent.

He came to Clewiston in 1946 as assistant superintendent of the starch plant. He recalls that the USSC water plant was built to provide water for the starch plant and that soon after it was built, the City of Clewiston abandoned its antiquated plant and began getting its water from USSC.

Two years later, USSC halted the starch.

tiquated plant and began getting its water from USSC.

Two years later, USSC halted the starch project and Boy worked for a year as a liaison engineer on a project to convert sugar juices directly into white sugar.

In 1949, Boy placed in charge of agricultural equipment development. The assignment proved to be an important one.

He developed high speed cane wagons, for loading hand-cut cane. The design was based on a modified Caterpillar crawher and featured fourwheel drive. Nearly 30 years later, Boy's design and wagons are still being used.

Another innovation was the first continuous cane loader. The continuous loader was a major conversion from slow speed crawler equipment. By this time, Boy was hooked on the Glace and he had forgotten about the bright light of the Glace in the continuous can be to the continuous can be provided to the continuous cane loader. "Once I got here and got involved, I liked it. My mother and father both came from farms. I've always had a real feeling for farming and the land," he said.

In the 1950s, Boy was named administrative assistant to Vice President Harry Vaughn, Sr. When Vaughn was promoted to president. In 1958, Boy was named administrative assistant to the president.

administration and in 1961 he became executive vice president.

In 1966, he was elected to the board of directors of United States Sugar Corp., and in 1970 he assumed the position of president of USSC.

Asked about the changes in the 36 years he has been with the company, Boy responds, "Primarily we have grown.

When the company Boy responds, "Primarily we have grown. The only other business USSC was involved in was cattle.

Under the old Sugar Act, Boy recalls that USSC was limited in the amount of cane that it could grow.

"In 1958 or 1959, Congress amended the Sugar Act so that it had a provision that deficits in other sugar producing areas were allocated to those who could use them," he said.

When sugar beets failed to meet their market allottment under the revised act, USSC began planning a second mill.

The revision of the Sugar Act, rather than Castro's take-over in Cuba, opened the door for greater sugar production in Florida, he said.

Coinciding with the communist take-over in Florida, however, was the building of three cooperatives in Florida by local farmers and four by Cuban interests.

During the early 1960s, the sugar industry

Boy says that the building of the Bryant Mill near Pahokee was USSC's first big expansion, and the second was the acquisition of South Bay Growers.

and the second was the acquisition of South Bay Growers.

"We are three or four times now what we were in the 1940s," he said.

The acquisition of South Bay Growers not only put USSC in a third major business, it also made more land available to the company.

Each of the businesses complement each other. During the late 1960s when USSC was having rouble with muck fires, the company put its idle land to use as cattle pasture to protect the soil. As the company expanded the mills, idle land was put sack into production for growing came.

"In 1974 when the Sugar Act expired, we were free to increase the capacity of the sugar houses and increased came acreage. We've had quite a jump in acreage in the past several years," he says.

USSC has become a giant among Florida businesses. In 1981, USSC had net sales and revenue of $247 million. And according to a recent article in Florida Trend Magazine, USSC is now the 11th most profitable company in the now the 11th most profitable company in the state.

USSC has 2,400 employees year-round and 5,500 during the sugar harvesting season.

USSC, founded in 1931, is owned by the Mott Foundation - 25 percent; the Mott Family - 25 percent; the public - 25 percent; and the Mott Childrens Health Center - 25 percent.

C. S. Mott, who reorganized USSC, was an axial manufacturer in New York.

Mott went on to become the largest stockholder in General Motors and bought P.G. Dahlberg's stock in Southern Sugar Corp.

"He took a real liking to this area. That's why he bought out Southern's creditors," Boy says.

Mott set up a management team and a research team and almost instantly USSC became successful.

team and almost instantly USSC technical constitution.

"Mr. Mott was always one to let the management team run the company," he said.

Charles Wetherald was the first outside operating president. "He made the decision not to throw good money after bad. He decided that the main business was sugar - not starch," Boy says.

Wetherald, who had retired from the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, handpicked Harry Vaughn, Sr., as his successor. Vaughn was the Today, C. S. Harding Mott is Chairman of the company are the three oldest Mott children.

The long-term
future of sugar

Boy believes that for the long term, the future of sugar is good. There will be more good years than bad.

In years when less sugar is produced worldwide, the U.S. industry will receive more worldwide, the U.S. industry will receive more money for its crop. When the world over-produces, everyone receives less for their crop. One of the limiting factors locally is that all of the good cane land is already in use. USSC is making some moves toward sand lands west of Clewiston.

USSC is also looking for other ways to diversify. Boy noted that USSC was well on its way to a profitable vegetable crop with South Bay Growers until the freeze wiped out the crop this past winter.

"Food gross haven't been very profitable the Growers until the freeze wiped out the crop this past winter.

"Food crops haven't been very profitable the last few years. We are still looking at other businesses, but are moving cautiously," he said.

"Sugar is still our bread and butter and will be as far down the road as far as I can see," he said.

"Sugar is still our bread and butter and will be as far down the road as far as I can see," he said.

"Sugar is still our bread and butter and will be communities in which it does business with money for parks, hospitals, swimming pools, libraries and other facilities." We've always adopted a hand-off policy to avoid the stigma of company town. We ve always told them (local political leaders) to do what is best for the city... we've never tried to dictate to the city or the county." Boy said.

"We've enjoyed an extremely good relationship," he said.

"We've grioyed an extremely good relationship," he said.

While the average large corporation may return on the county of its gross income to charitable cause. USSC returns 2½ percent. "Most of that is placed in the community." Boy said.

JUSSC considers Clewiston, Pahokee, Canal plead in the community." Boy said.

JOHN B. BOY

One of USSC's biggest contributions is for scholarships for children of USSC employees and to the top graduates in each year's class. The top graduate from Pahokee High School. Clewiston High School, and Glades Central High School each year are eligible for a four-year scholarship valued at $12,000. Smaller scholarships are awarded to top graduates of LaBelle. Moore Haven, and Glades Day School. USSC also donates to private colleges. Close to $200,000 a year is spent for educating young people in this area by USSC. He and his wife Nancy have been married since 1944 and have three children: Betsy Terrill, married to Jim Terrill, a USSC vice president; John B. Boy, Jr., a West Palm Beach certified public accountant; and Howard Lane Boy, a 12th grader at Admiral Farrageth Academy in St. Petersburg. He is now a grandfather four times over, including Jamie, Jennifer, and Stephanie Terrill and Suzanne Boy.

John B. Boy loves the water, whether it be fishing or boating. He has a place at Boca Grande, but he rarely gets to see it.

For the last 12 years he has been too busy piloting USSC. And the nautical precision he has brought to the task shows.

Among those who have shown their gratitude are the City of Clewiston, which presented him with its Outstanding Community Service Award, the University of Florida - Distinguished Agricultural Award, and the Council of Independent Colleges and Universities - Champion of Higher Independent Education in Florida Award. A wish that Glades residents might make for both John B. Boy and USSC is "Fair winds and following seas."
